

COMMANDER OF U.S. PACIFIC COMMAND VISITS BANGLADESH, DISCUSSES RELIEF EFFORTS

DHAKA, November 23, 2007 – U.S. Navy Admiral Timothy J. Keating, Commander of the U.S. Pacific Command (PACOM) based in Hawaii, visited Bangladesh today to discuss the on-going U.S. relief effort in response to Cyclone Sidr.

During his meeting with Bangladesh Chief of Army Staff General Moeen U. Ahmed, Admiral Keating repeated the U.S. commitment to support Bangladesh as it continues its relief operations. Admiral Keating emphasized the U.S. was also committed to helping with the country's longer-term recovery from the tragedy.

Admiral Keating has been commander of U.S. Pacific Command March 23, 2007.
